TREASURING NORTH CAROLINA AWARD

It is the Society of North Carolina Archivists' pleasure to announce the "Treasuring North Carolina Award." This award seeks to recognize people outside of the profession who have, through various means, supported the archival efforts of North Carolina's cultural and heritage organizations. SNCA will present the first award at our annual March business meeting in Carrboro. The SNCA Executive Board will then entertain nominations for subsequent awards to be selected biennially, or as deemed appropriate by the Board. Information concerning the award will be included on our webpage: <http://www.ncarchivists.org/awards/awards.html/>.

Spring Meeting, March 23-24, 2006

Workshop Information-March 23, 2006
(Registration Deadline-March 6, 2006)

(Check selection)

Copyright: The Archivist and the Law $15

Instructor: Peggy E. Hoon and Cheryl L. Davis

This workshop will address basic laws for the administration of copyright in the daily archival work. The instructors will bring you up to date with the latest issues relating to intellectual property, user's rights, and the U.S. federal law for archives and manuscripts. March 23, 2006, 9:00AM – 12:00 Noon ½ day; capacity 20

Please note: Participants will be asked to provide an email address. Prior to the workshop, the instructors will send participants a list of questions to assist them with tailoring the workshop to participants' needs.

Describing Photographs in the Online Environment $15

Instructor: Elizabeth Arnold Hull

This workshop will address how the Forest History Society digitizes, describes, and catalogs their photographic materials and their procedure for making them available on the Web. Participants will learn about the challenges of describing photos, best practices for online presentation, and how to identify methods for applying descriptive standards for photographs in their own collections. This is a great introductory workshop for archivists, institutions starting digitization programs, and others who plan to digitize photographs for online accessibility. March 23, 2006, 1:30PM-4:30PM ½ day; capacity 20

Please note: Participants will be asked to provide an email address. Prior to the workshop, the instructor will send participants a list of questions to assist them with tailoring the workshop to participants' needs.

Both Workshops $25
